BAGUS Year 3!

From the Indonesian room.

Please enjoy these photos of a wonderful collaborative activity that year 3 classes did, integrating HASS and Indonesian. The display is in the newly renovated year 3 wet area.

Students learnt about NYEPI and the significance of OGOH-OGO.

Each student made their own OGOH-OGO and wrote a description in Indonesian.

NYEPI is a 4 day Balinese celebration marking the Hindu New Year. Nyepi is time of purification and this is when the bad spirits 'OGOHO-OGOHO' are banished from the island. The OGOH-OGOHO are made by the village men and boys and burnt in a ceremony to purge them from the island. The last day of Nyepi is a full day of silence. There are four main Nyepi prohibitions; Amati Geni (no fire, light, electricity), Amati Karya (no working), Amati Lelunganan (no travelling), Amati Leanguan (Fasting and no entertainment).

Minglish

We invented this colourful board game called Minglish (math+english) for our iMaths investigation. The topic was equivalent fractions, decimals and percentages, which we incorporated into our game by turning the main part of it into a choose-your-own-adventure-game (although the spinner decides for you). You need to win the story, and solve the mysterious code by playing the fate-deciding sudoku... The first to finish everything wins, will your choices let Bianca the bully accept Lila's friendship?
