Area 17

We have been developing skills to create well structured, interesting narratives in Area 17. We have been particularly focusing on the Plan for Success strategy.

The Lost Defender

"Where could he possibly be?" I asked myself. Me and my team needed Bob for the second half of our soccer game. Sweat poured down my face as I looked out into the stadium.

Our star defender went missing right after half time.

"Hey, have you seen your son?" I begged Bob's parents.

"No, I haven't," they responded anxiously.

Well that wasn't very helpful, I thought.

We were running out of time! The game was going to start soon!! Sprinting frantically around searching for him, I checked the locker rooms, then the drink fountain but he was nowhere to be seen!!!

DRIP DRIP followed by OUCH from the toilet room. I ran and banged on the doors but found out it was just a member of the other team. All of a sudden it was time to go back out on the field!

"Wait, he's right there!" I screamed.

Turns out he was just practising on the field while waiting for us. My heart was filled with joy and we won the match 3-1.

Where Could He Be?!

By Sadana.Pathmanathan

With hope in her heart Betty was looking everywhere for her precious little puppy. "Oh where could he be daddy?" she exclaimed. It was raining cats and dogs out there and Betty knew that her puppy was scared of thunder and lightning. They couldn't do anything with this type of weather.

While Betty was under her favourite pink blanket, all tucked in, she was thinking about her beautiful puppy. Hugging a picture of him, she dozed off to sleep. The next morning Betty got up really early as she was desperate to find her beloved pet.

Betty's mum and dad were also helping and brought some delicious treats for the puppy to smell. Sprinting frantically Betty went to the edge of the pool to see whether her puppy was at the bottom. Soon the whole neighbourhood was involved in the search!

Some people looked at the park while others went around the schools. Even the ranger came to help! They knocked on people's doors to check whether they had seen him. Betty was in tears. She could feel this excruciating pain in her heart.

All of a sudden, a rattling noise was heard from the bushes. it sounded like someone trying to get out. Betty ran to see if it was her puppy. Eventually it's head popped out. "I FOUND HIM I FINALLY FOUND HIM!!" screamed Betty. Everyone ran to her with joy as she picked him up and hugged it like a soft toy! "Woof!" barked the puppy excitedly. Betty's mum and dad came and hugged them. "HOORAY!" shouted the crowd.

Now Betty's little puppy was always in the house safe and sound. She knew what the moral of this story was... and so did the puppy...
